Re: Daniel G. Floyd

To Whom It May Concern,

I met Daniel while attending the Western Michigan University, School of Business, and Entrepreneur Pitch Competition. Daniel and I became friends, and have stayed in touch regularly. From the onset I found Daniel to be a very mature and dedicated young man.

He presents himself and his product, SpeechMasterPro, like a seasoned professional. Daniel is very articulate and well read. I recently invited him as my guest to the Portage Michigan Rotary Club. Following his comments, whereby he shared a little of his story, members were impressed with his business accomplishments.

Daniel is a remarkable young man with strong work ethic and an engaging positive personality. I have no doubt that given the opportunity Daniel will be a valuable asset to your team and organization.
